FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Speakman Cooling Solutions is selected by Resorts World at Sentosa to provide Advanced Evaporative Coolers for the Universal Studios Theme Park in Singapore.

New Castle, DE September 2, 2009 – Speakman Company announced today that Speakman Cooling Solutions, an HVAC division of the Speakman Company, has been selected by Resorts World Sentosa to supply OASys and AMAX brand IDEC (Indirect Direct Evaporative Cooling) coolers to provide outdoor cooling for the queuing areas within its Universal Studios Singapore theme park – Southeast Asia’s first and only.

Providing sufficient cooling in the humid climate of Singapore was difficult. Speakman IDEC coolers were tested and adjusted to meet the challenge of this environment. “The OASys and AMAX products will create a more relaxing and inviting environment outdoors, hence increasing guests’ enjoyment of the park in the hot and humid Singapore weather” said Mr. Russell Waters, Director of Speakman Cooling Solutions, “We are honored to be a part of Southeast Asia’s first Universal Studios Theme Park”.

A mega resort with a casino and two major attractions - Universal Studios Singapore and Marine Life Park – Resorts World Sentosa is Asia’s most exciting family resort destination. Spanning 49 hectares and costing S$6.59 billion (US$4.2 billion) to build, the Resort’s myriad of exciting offerings for the entire family include a world class maritime museum, a water theme park, a luxury wellness spa, accommodation options spanning 6 hotels and 1,800 rooms, world-class entertainment and an unparalleled array of dining and shopping outlets. Located a short 20-minute ride away from Changi Airport, Resorts World Sentosa is also neighbor to attractions that range from championship courses at the Sentosa Golf Club, Singapore’s largest shopping mall VivoCity and Singapore’s largest nightclub St. James Power Station.

Executive Vice President of Projects at Resorts World Sentosa, Mr. Michael Chin, said, “Universal Studios Singapore is a landmark attraction never before available in Southeast Asia and we strive to provide the most comfortable experience for all guests within the park.”

The contract with Resorts World Sentosa is a major step for Speakman’s Cooling Solutions Division, which is looking forward to providing innovative energy efficient cooling solutions to other major projects in the United States and worldwide. The contract includes a variety of models and configurations with a combined capacity in excess of 900,000 CFM. Production and preparation work has already begun and the evaporative cooling units are due to be installed in the fourth quarter of 2009, in time for the park’s opening in early 2010.

About Speakman Company

As a plumbing industry leader since 1869, Speakman Company has provided top quality and innovative plumbing solutions for their customer for over 140 years. In 2005, Speakman created its Cooling Solutions Division which pioneered a revolutionary indirect/direct evaporative cooler (IDEC). Speakman Company is providing custom designed OASys and AMAX IDEC coolers throughout the queuing spaces of the park. These IDEC Coolers provide exceptional cooling while reducing energy consumption and the impact on the environment. When used in hot arid climates such as the Western United States, our coolers provide exceptional cooling, while saving up to 80% in energy costs versus a comparable sized refrigerated air conditioner.

About Resorts World Sentosa

Slated to be one of the world's most exciting family destinations, Resorts World Sentosa is a collection of resorts and attractions with a plethora of fun-filled offerings for the entire family.

Taking pride of place on Singapore's resort island of Sentosa and spanning 49 hectares, this S$6.59 billion mega-resort will be home to Southeast Asia's first and only Universal Studios theme park, the world's largest oceanarium – Marine Life Park, and the region's only fully integrated destination spa – ESPA.

The Resort also boasts a total of 1,800 rooms, spread across six hotels of varying themes. Topping the list are the ultra-luxurious, all-suite Maxims Tower, and the world's only Hotel Michael, named after famed American architectural legend, Michael Graves, who designed the entire Resort. Other accommodation options include the trendy Hard Rock Hotel Singapore, the family-centric Festive Hotel, as well as beach-facing Spa Villas, perfect for some solitude and privacy.

Resorts World Sentosa also has a wide array of MICE facilities that can accommodate 35,000 delegates at any one time. Options include one of Asia's largest column-less ballroom that seats 7,300 guests; 26 function rooms – most of which come with their own garden views – as well as some of Singapore's most creative event venues within Universal Studios Singapore.

Beyond hotels and attractions, the Resort's world-class entertainment include the Crane Dance – a free nightly, spectacular multi-media presentation featuring cleverly choreographed animatronic cranes set out on the waterfront. The Resort's also boasts its resident show – Voyage de la Vie – a rock circus musical, complete with grand sets, aerial stunts and an evocative musical score. An unparalleled array of retail and dining options, as well as roving acts and street performances, await guests at FestiveWalk, the Resort's main thoroughfare.

Resorts World Sentosa opens its doors to the world in early 2010. For more action, please log on to www.rwsentosa.com.
